

Escenas de niños

en pictogramas

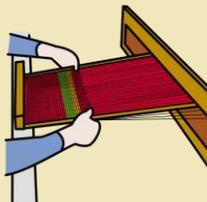

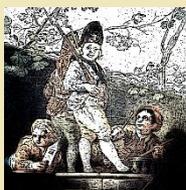

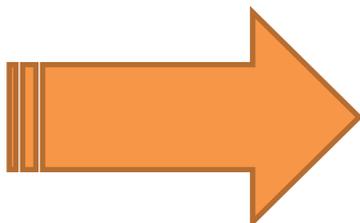

MADRID

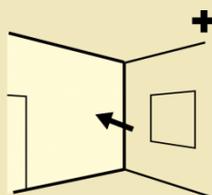

GOYA PINTÓ LOS SEIS CARTONES EN ÓLEO SOBRE LIENZO.

LOS CARTONES SON BOCETOS PARA HACER UN TAPIZ.

LOS TAPICES SE COLGABAN EN LAS PAREDES DEL PALACIO DEL REY.

LOS CARTONES REPRESENTAN A NIÑOS JUGANDO.

This pictogram illustrates the lack of toys for children in the past. On the left, a stick figure points to three clock faces. Next to it are two children. In the center, a sad face is crossed out with a large red 'X'. To the right, there are various toys: a teddy bear, a toy train, a spinning top, and two stick figures playing with a ball.

ANTES, LOS NIÑOS NO TENÍAN JUGUETES PARA JUGAR.

This pictogram shows children playing in different environments. On the left, two children are shown. Next to them, two stick figures play with a ball. To the right, there are two illustrations: a street with buildings and a field with trees.

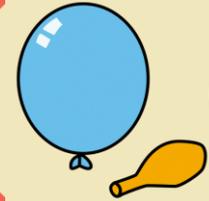

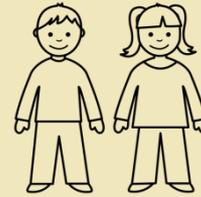

LOS NIÑOS JUGABAN EN LA CALLE Y EN EL CAMPO.

This pictogram illustrates children inventing games. On the left, two children are shown. Next to them is a lightbulb above a sad face, indicating a moment of invention. To the right, there are various games: a block tower, dominoes, a maze, and a abacus. A large happy face is on the far right.

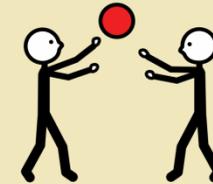

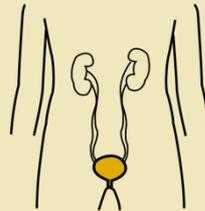

LOS NIÑOS INVENTABAN JUEGOS PARA DIVERTIRSE.

NIÑOS INFLANDO UNA VEJIGA

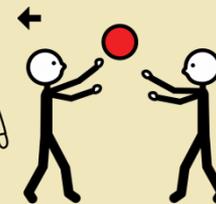

LOS NIÑOS NO TENÍAN GLOBOS NI PELOTAS.

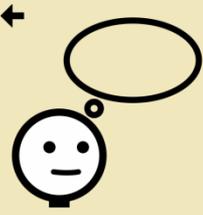

HINCHABAN VEJIGAS DE ANIMAL PARA JUGAR A LA PELOTA.

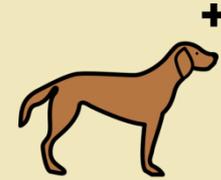

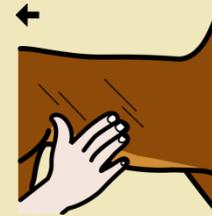

MUCHACHOS JUGANDO A SOLDADOS

LOS NIÑOS JUGABAN A SOLDADOS...

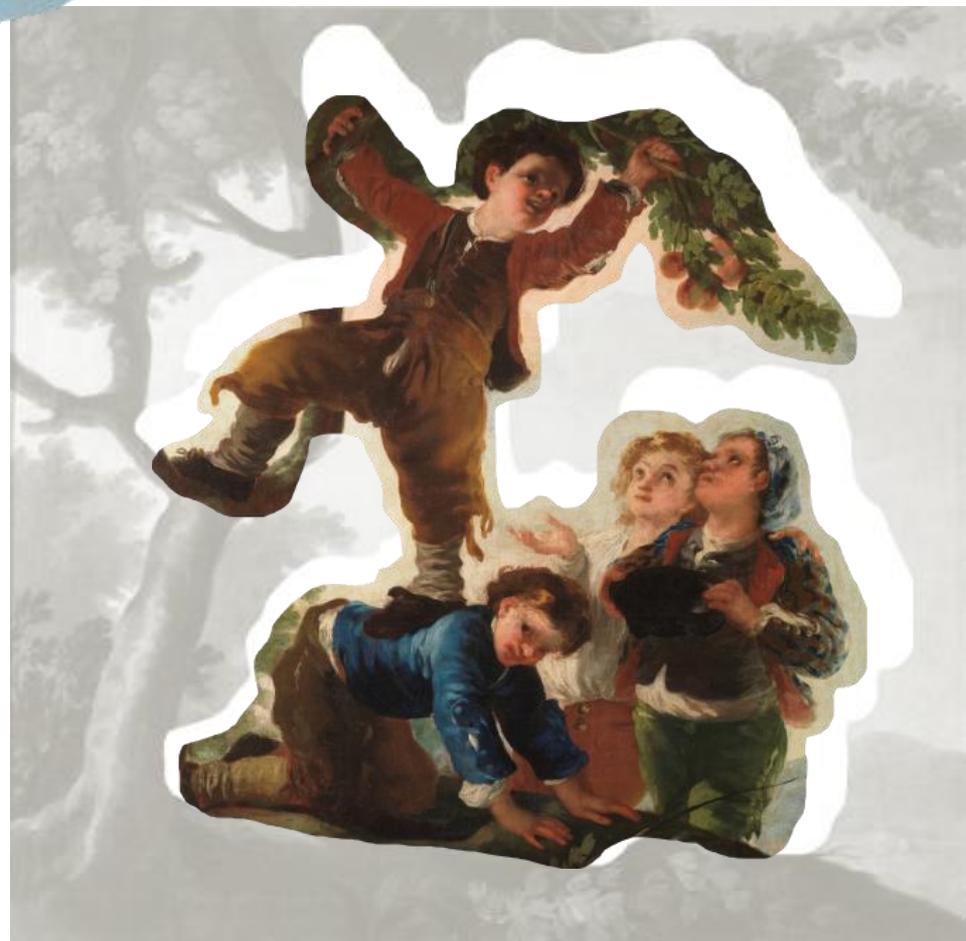

...IMAGINABAN QUE ERAN GIGANTES...

...ACARICIABAN PERROS...

MUCHACHOS TREPANDO A UN ÁRBOL

MUCHACHOS COGIENDO FRUTA